(For the Roundabout.) OLD TIMES IN FRANKFORT.

No. VII.

Forty years ago, the dramatic spirit was strong with the young men of Frankfort. Amateur companies were organized, popular plays put upon the stage, with all the assurance of old professionals. Costumes and scenery purchased, borrowed or improvised, the different characters assigned, according to recognized or supposed talent, and the stage strut and melodramatic mimicry performed before crowded houses. Many humorous episodes occurred during the rendition of these amateur theatricals that never failed to "bring down the house." Much ingenuity and not a little adroitness and tact were displayed in putting the plays, and players as well, on the stage, in which the managers and actors were ably assisted by their mothers, sisters and sweethearts. Considerable money was also distributed for charitable purposes. From admission fees one company alone distributing over $2,500.

An upper room in the Barstow building, on the corner of St. Clair and Broadway, was the scene of many theatricals and shows. An amateur performance was on the boards one night, in which Wan, King and Jas. Watson were actors. King, in his character, was in disguise, and was in the midst of his recitation, repeating, in a deep stage voice, "Ye woods and wilds, whose melancholy gloom"—when a small boy from a group near the stage—penetrating his disguise—said rather loudly, "that's Billy King." King suddenly broke off in his recitation, turned to the small boy, and, in an undertone of ineffable disgust, that was audible all over the house, exclaimed "you be d—d," and then, raising his voice he concluded his rendition in sonorous tones with the words "accords with the sentiment of my soul's sadness." The tragic words, and the interpretation being both heard and appreciated by the audience, evoked immense applause.

The Metropolitan Theatre, on St. Clair street, with its narrow entrance and its circular rows of seats, rising tier on tier from the stage, was the principal place of amusement prior to 1867, when it was destroyed by fire.

Among the noted actors and actresses of that period, who appeared at the Metropolitan Theatre, were Barney McCanley, Rachel Johnson, M. A. Meeker and wife, H. A. Weaver and wife, B. B. Golden and wife, McKean Buchanan, H. A. Stetson and Maggie Mitchell. The great humorist and comic delineator, Alf Burnett, and the accomplished ventriloquist and sleight-of-hand performer, Signor Blitz, also gave appearances upon its stage.

There were frequent amateur theatricals and concerts rendered at intervals, and with great success, by the combined "talent" of the city. These unique affairs were almost always accompanied by incidents of most amusing character that long lived to be the pleasing gossip of the social circle.

Probably one of the most notable of these amateur entertainments was a musical concert given by a company of assumed Italians, consisting of Ed. Hensley, as Signor Edwardo Henloski; Wm. H. Averill, as Signor Averillo; Sam C. and Charles G. Leonard, as the brothers Leonard; Ed. Mitchell, attired as a female, as Mademoiselle Mitchellletto; Bob Holton, arrayed in an immense gown belonging to Marsh Wood's mother, as Madam Elephant, his huge proportions showing off to advantage; L. B. Taylor, as Don Robt. Tello; and Billy Hardie as Mons. Billie Hardi, also took prominent parts. With instruments of enormous size and grotesque shape, some of these amateur Italians executed, in front of a large curtain or shield, most difficul pieces—the real execution being by skilled musicians, stationed behind the curtains—though the deception upon the audience was complete. Some of the performers were never known to play a note or sing a line. One performer, in spade-tail coat and hair parted in exquisite fashion, and as unskilled in music as a goose in a quadrille, performed a difficult solo on the violin, to the delight of the audience. But in responding to the encore, the real performer behind the curtain suddenly ceased to play, leaving the supposed musician sawing away in empty pantomime, thus disclosing the deception.

Of another popular company, Mr. J. L. Waggoner was director and manager, with "Ten Nights in a Bar Room," as one of the successful pieces. In this company, Mr. Sam D. Johnson was a captivating female character. With head decorated with beads that gracefully hung below the chin, and wearing a beautiful cream-colored silk dress with high corsage, he (or she) handled his (or her) long trail with the grace and tact of the most accomplished queen of the "upper 10." Mr. Chas. Starling also appeared as a female character, but with a masculine tendency, his large left hand always "bringing down the house," with its manipulation of the fan. Billy Dunlap, Bob Parent, John B. Dryden and others were members of this company.

In the pathetic melodrama of "Ten Nights in a Bar Room," which was repeated several times to large audiences, with marked appropriateness of costume and scenic effect, John B. Dryden appeared as Joe Morgan, the drunkard; Geo. L. Payne, as Willie Hammond, and Wayland Graham, as Joe Morgan's wife. Junie Todd sustained the character of Harvey Green, the Gambler; John W. Payne, that of Romaine; Robt. Tilford appeared as Mehltable Cartwright, and Frank Gray did a comic part.

The same company also presented the play of Solon Shingle and other minor pieces.

Perhaps the most successful production by Frankfort amateurs was that of the cantata of Queen Esther, rendered with rich costumes and splendid scenic effect, before crowded and applauding houses in this city and Lexington. The singing of Mrs. Orblison, Mrs. John W. Rodman, Mrs. Tom Rodman and Mrs. Cotton, of Versailles, was a distinguished feature in this Biblical presentation.

Upon the disbandment of another amateur company, and a division of the money in the treasury, Thos. B. Ford was expelled on the ground of being tardy at rehearsals, but really to make the money divide even—there being one person too many for that desired end.

The fire that consumed the Metropolitan Theatre in 1867, was the first of a series of disastrous conflagrations that rapidly followed. This fire extended as far as Weitzel's confectionery, in the middle of the block. A later fire destroyed the half of the north side of the two blocks between St. Clair and Ann streets, except the building where Hardie's drug store now is, and the three-story building on the corner of Ann and Broadway. Another fire began at the Mansion House and burned to Dr. Rodman's office, a child of Jake Harris being burned to death. And still another fire burned on the South side of Main street, from Ann to the Bantz building, on Lewis street.

Why Buy McClure's?

McClure's Magazine is bought and read in homes not because it is a magazine, but because it is the magazine. Why?

FIRST—THE PRICE. It costs but one dollar a year, or less than ten cents a number, for over thirteen hundred two column pages of reading matter. This amounts in actual bulk to twenty or twenty-five books costing anywhere from a dollar to two dollars a volume.

SECOND—QUALITY. The reading matter is written by America's leading writers—the best short story writers, the best writers on timely articles, the best writers of important serials, such as Schurz's Reminiscences or Baker's Railroad articles.

THIRD—TIMELINESS. The reading matter in McClure's is not only good; it is not only entertaining, amusing, instructive and inspiring—it is also about the subjects in which you and all Americans are most interested at the time. No subjects in the next twelve months and life insurance. Both of these questions will be discussed by authorities in an impartial, careful, interesting way.

FOURTH—ITS CHARACTER. McClure's Magazine is not edited for children, but at the same time, there is not a line in it that any young girl might not read. Its advertising pages are as clean as its editorial pages.

STAGE BECOMES RIVAL OF CHURCH.

Bible Scenes and Characters Are Soon to be Presented to Theatregoers—Will do Great Good of Work Much Harm.

Question Has Been Raised as to Advisability of Putting on Such a Play.

The tremendous question of church and stage is about to be raised, as it has never been before, in Frankfort. Gordon & Bennett's Company will produce at the Capital Theatre, next Wednesday, February 7, a play dealing with the life of our Lord. The play is called "The Holy City," and is by Clarence Bennett, a journalist. It is in blank verse.

The principal characters are Mary Magdalen; Barannas, described as a Jewish patriot; Judas Iscariot, Judas Pontius Pilate, Caiaphas, the High Priest; Peter and John, the disciples; Lazarus and Zacharias, Elizabeth, mother of John the Baptist; King Herod and his daughter, the Princess Salome; and twenty other imaginary characters complete the cast. There are four acts and a most dramatic personage of forty people.

Briefly stated, the story of the play is as follows: Mary Magdala is beloved of Barannas, and is also the favorite of Caiaphas.

Act I finds Barannas, who is hunted by the Roman soldiers, Marius, the Roman Captain; Silenus, a dissipated Roman; Judas Iscariot, and a number of women, all met in Mary's house for pleasure. The subject is raised of the wondrous Nazarene and His reported miracles. By accident Mary knocks a vase into the street where the Lord and His followers are preaching and healing the sick. Enraged, Simon, Peter and John break into Mary's house and Peter upbraids her for her evil life, at the same time telling her of the death of her brother, Lazarus. The act closes with the conversion of the Magdalen, after a fierce struggle with the fascination of her old life. She looks out—a strong light indicates that Christ has turned His pitying gaze upon her, and the curtain falls upon her in prayer.

Act 2 takes place in the courtyard of Martha's home. Here within the house the Lord is visiting. Mary, poorly clad and penitent, returns to her home and is struck with wonderment to find Lazarus raised from the tomb. She enters the house and anoints the head of Christ with precious ointment. Returning, her exaltation has reached such heights that she cures Zacharias of blindness by saying that the Lord has so commanded her. Hither comes Barannas, who renews his frenzy of love. He is enraged when Mary tells him that she will follow the Nazarene, and the act closes with the betrayal of Christ.

Act 3 deals with the judgment of Pilate, the denial of Peter, and the release of Barannas, and the order for the Crucifixion.

Act 4 tells the story of the Lord's death—the thunders and earthquakes and the rending of the veil of the Temple. Judas goes mad and hangs himself. The curtain falls on the grandest portrayal of inspiring spectacle—a complete allegorical reproduction of the Crucifixion by Michael Angelo. Act 5 shows the Garden of Joseph of Arimathea, and the sacred tomb. The various characters of the play pass and repass throughout the scene. The Great Light shines—the Roman soldiers fall on their faces; Caiaphas is in foreboding and flings the tomb empty; an angel appears and announces that the Lord is risen; Mary comes and tells how she has seen Christ again, and Barannas is converted.

The final curtain falls amid the strains of "The Holy City"—and the Ascension of Christ and the angels.

This great attraction comes to Capital Theatre, February 7.

TOUR EUROPE FREE.

The Courier-Journal to Take Nineteen Young Women Abroad as Its Guests.

The Courier-Journal is conducting a popularity contest that eclipses anything of the kind ever promoted in this section. Briefly, the Courier-Journal proposes to take on a seven weeks tour abroad nineteen young women from Kentucky and Southern Indiana, all expenses paid, from the day the party leaves Louisville, July 12, until it returns to "The Old Kentucky Home," August 29. To give all a chance the Courier-Journal has divided Louisville and Kentucky and Southern Indiana into eighteen districts, and the most popular young woman from each district is to be the one to make the tour. The nineteenth young woman is to be selected in another way. Readers of the Courier-Journal are to select the guests for the paper, by ballot. It is estimated that the trip alone will cost the Courier-Journal about $15,000, to say nothing of incidental and other necessary expenses. There may be a young woman from this section who is a candidate for this tour. Write the Courier-Journal, Louisville, Ky., for a list of candidates and full details of the tour.

August Flower keeps the children healthy and strong—Full of vigor and frolic the whole day long. So when Mamma needs more they rush off in high glee. And shout to the druggist: "Please give it to me!"

Ability to get up brisk and fresh in the morning, lack of appetite, pallor, muddy complexion and poor spirits—these all indicate a disordered stomach and bad digestion—in adults and children, too. They also indicate the urgent need of taking Green's August Flower regularly for a few days. It's a reliable old remedy for all stomach troubles, never fails to cure indigestion, dyspepsia and chronic constipation, and is a natural tonic for body and mind. In two sizes, 25c and 75c. GEO. A. LEWIS, Pro'r and Pub.

FRANKFORT, FEB. 3, 1906

TO OUR PATRONS AND THE PUBLIC.

A number of baseless statements have gone to the public with regard to affairs in our office. We desire to say that ALL of our REGULAR FORCE are at work and are satisfied with their positions and compensation. They have been with us for long years.

In addition, we have not a printer in our office to whom we are not paying regularly as much, if not more, than the union printers are paid.

The men who went out came here to do some extra work, and were notified of the conditions under which they could be employed before they went to work and accepted them. They, and they alone, undertook to change the status of affairs.

No man can truthfully say that we have ever mistreated any one in our employ. We have tried always to treat them as we wish to be treated ourselves, under like circumstances.

Another fact, our work has in NO WAY been interfered with or retarded.

It is hardly necessary for us to say this to the people where we were born and have spent our lives, but the general public may not know the true state of the case.

Most, if not all, the stories in careful circulation about the matter are simply and wholly false.

GEO. A. LEWIS.

TRAGIC DEATH.

Dr. J. H. Dye and wife, of Louisville, who were riding in an automobile from their country home, were struck by a Louisville Southern train, on Monday morning, in a dense fog, and instantly killed.

For Thin Babies

Fat is of great account to a baby; that is why babies are fat. If your baby is scrawny, Scott's Emulsion is what he wants. The healthy baby stores as fat what it does not need immediately for bone and muscle. Fat babies are happy; they do not cry; they are rich; their fat is laid up for time of need. They are happy because they are comfortable. The fat surrounds their little nerves and cushions them. When they are scrawny those nerves are hurt at every ungentle touch. They delight in Scott's Emulsion. It is as sweet as wholesome to them.

To Morphine From Doctor's Orders.

Habit Worse Than the Disease.

Dr. Miles' Nervine Cured Me.

When the nervous system has been shattered by the use of deadly drugs there is nothing to equal Dr. Miles' Nervine in restoring it to health and normal activity.

"I feel so grateful for what Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine has done for me that I must tell it for that part of humanity that suffers as I have. During the three years I suffered from nervous prostration I found no relief except when doctors gave morphine. To get rid of suffering I took morphine myself as it was the only thing that would give ease, and now you, who point with scorn at morphine using, how could you, when in such agony, kindly say I am cured of that would give relief, resist it? I knew it was a terrible habit and I knew its deadly grasp, but I never fully realized its significance until I had used it a number of months. Oh, the misery of being addicted to such a habit. I resolved then and there to quit it and resolved I would never be a slave to any such demon. About this time I happened to notice Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine advertised and ordered a bottle. After using five bottles I can truthfully say I am cured of using morphine. Now, however much persons may doubt it, God is my witness I am cured. This testimonial is unsolicited but I feel it my duty to give it for the benefit of the suffering."—MATTIE PEARSON, Prescott, Ark.

BEAUTIFUL ENTERTAINMENT.

One of the prettiest entertainments of the season was that given by Col. E. H. Taylor, Jr., and Mr. J. Switzer Taylor and wife, in honor of Miss Mary Belle Taylor, at their handsome home, "Thistleton," on the Louisville pike, two miles from the city, on Tuesday night.

The elegant home was beautifully decorated and brilliantly lighted from cellar to attic.

A very large crowd of beautiful women, fashionably attired, and attended by gentlemen in conventional dress suits, filled the house, from early in the evening until 12 o'clock at night.

The supper, which was served by Miss Benedict, of Louisville, was elegant and satisfying, and was handled by a corps of trained waiters, which added to the pleasure of the guests.

These good people always entertain in the best style and make every guest feel at home and the cordiality extended is refreshing and heart-warming.

Every one present was delighted with the affair, which was, throughout, managed with grace and ease, and heartily congratulated their hosts and hostesses.

THE GRAND OLD MAN.

On Wednesday last the Legislature of Kentucky honored itself by honoring Hon. Preston H. Leslie, ex-Governor of the State of Kentucky and also of Montana (where he now resides).

Gov. Leslie is 88 years of age, and belongs to an age, long past, when there were intellectual giants in the Legislature and State of Kentucky.

Gov. Leslie, at the invitation of the Legislature, addressed that body in joint assembly. His mental and physical vigor are unabated and he is the same ruggedly honest, upright, Christian gentleman that he was when he sat in Kentucky's gubernatorial chair in the 70's. He steps about as vigorously as a much younger man.

While here he met quite a number of those who knew him when Governor, but he missed many a face that greeted him then of those that knew and loved him.

RAISE THE PRICE.

The lively men of Frankfort have raised the price of hacks to funerals, weddings and other entertainments from $3 to $4. Whoopie! Can't afford to die or to marry at that rate.

AWFUL DEATH.

Conductor Peter Miller, of the C. & O. Railway, was caught under an overturned stove in a freight wreck on that road, near Preston, on Tuesday, and roasted to death. Horrible.

FRANKFORT HIGH SCHOOL ENTERTAINMENT.

The pupils of the Frankfort High School gave an entertainment in honor of the Legislature in the chapel of the school building, on Wednesday night. It was such an entertainment as is always given by this school and reflected great credit upon the pupils and teachers.

The following was the program: Chorus—"Skaters Song" (Schumann) School Recitation Miss Hobson

Chorus—"Come and Adore" (Gounod) School Recitation—"The Other Wise Man" (Van Dyke) Miss Monday

Solo—"Thou't Like Unto a Flower" (Rubenstein) Young Ladies Recitation—"The Horse Trade" (Westcott) Mr. Kenney

Solo—"Constantinople" Grade Pupils Chorus—"The Wanderer" (German Melody) School Masque—"A Gainsborough Lady" (Merrington) Miss Rodman and Mr. Choate

Solo—"A Winter's Tale" Miss Allen Recitation—"Those Days in Old Virginia" (Page) Miss Weathers

Chorus—"Blue Bells of Scotland" (Scottish Melody) School Recitation—"Ginevra" (Rogers) Miss Roberts

TABLEAU ILLUSTRATING RECITATION.

(a)—"Just as she looks there in her bridal dress. She was— all gentleness, all grace."

(b)—"And in the lustre of her youth, she gave her hand, with her heart in it, to Francesco."

(c)—"T was but that instant she had left Francesco, laughing and looking back."

(d)—"Within that chest she concealed herself."

Misses Park, O'Donnell, South, Marshall, Kennedy, and Nell. Messrs. Glenn, Culbertson, Salvers, Williams, Mayhall and Sutherland.

Final Chorus.

WOMEN'S WOES.

Frankfort Women Are Finding Relief at Last.

It does seem that women have more than a fair share of troubles and pains that afflict humanity; they must "keep up," must attend to duties in spite of constantly aching backs, or headaches, dizzy spells, bearing down pains; they must stoop over, when to stoop means torture. They must walk and bend and work with racking pains and many aches from kidney ills. Kidneys cause more suffering than any other organ of the body. Keep the kidneys well and health is easily maintained. Read of a remedy for kidneys only that helps and cures the kidneys and is endorsed by people you know.

Mrs. Mildred S. Betts, wife of C. M. Betts, carpenter, of 519 Short Street, says: "My kidneys troubled me for some years off and on. I tried different remedies, but without obtaining any permanent relief. The pain in my back was often very severe, especially at night before retiring and in the morning when I would first get up. There was also a kidney weakness, distressing at all times. I read about Doan's Kidney Pills, and noticed that the symptoms they cured were just like mine. Willing to try almost anything to get relief, I went to J. W. Gayle's drug store and got a box. I took them as directed and soon noticed the difference in my condition. The sharp pains and the aching disappeared, and the other complaints were banished. Doan's Kidney Pills act like magic and the relief they give is lasting."

HULETTE-MOORE—One of the most brilliant social events of the season was the wedding of Miss Jessie Bots Hulette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Hulette, of Franklin county, and Mr. Howard Moore. They were united in marriage at the home of the bride. The Rev. M. B. Adams, of Franklin, performed the ceremony, which was beautiful. Long before the time appointed guests began to assemble until the home was filled to its fullest capacity. The bride looked unusually charming in her wedding gown of white silk trimmed with real lace and ribbon. She wore an exquisite bride's veil—an heirloom in the family. The best man was Mr. Curtis Moore. The maid of honor was Miss Nina Hoffman Clark, who wore a dainty gown of green, carrying out the wedding scheme of white and green. The groom and his attendant wore the conventional dress suit. After the ceremony the bride, attired in a beautiful gown of blue silk, received hearty congratulations. The bridal party left for a short stay with the bride's aunt, Mrs. Babe Cline, of Shelby county. We congratulate you, Mr. Moore, on winning the belle of the county. UNO.

SARAH BERNHARDT.

Sarah Bernhardt's passion for jewels and rich garments, is well known. On her American tour the French artist wears some of the strangest and most gorgeous ornaments seen on a mere mortal. Her appearance as one steps into her private car, is that of a modern Queen of Sheba. Priceless sapphires, gossamer lace, and shimmering satins form her ordinary attire. An account of the jewels accompanying her morning toilet is worth chronicling. About her slim throat Sarah wears a double chain of rare enamels and mosaics set with dull gold. The chain falls below her waist. On her left wrist is a heavy gold bracelet. Madame gives her left hand always in greeting to all but her dearest friends for whom her right hand is reserved, and fortunate is the stranger to whom that right hand is extended at a first introduction. Bernhardt wears many rings. On the thumb of her left hand is a shield-shaped ring of Grecian design. On the forefinger is a dull gold snake ring with a diamond sunk in his head. This was a gift on New Year's day from the members of her company. Two enormous rings set with flashing gems are on the third finger. The forefinger of the right hand she wears a long coiled serpent in greenish gold coming quite up to the first joint. Worn above this is a band of magnificent diamonds. Bernhardt's hands are exquisite, the true artist hands, long, slim and strong. Her hair is worn in an artistic fluff and is a burnished gold in color. Sarah's hair and her splendid eyes of grey violet have always been her chief beauties. Green is her favorite color, and she is much given to trailing erpe and sinuous silks, when choosing fabrics for her dresses, which are like no one else's in the world. Bernhardt travels in a special train, a car for herself and her dogs, and several coaches for the members of her company and numerous staff. Bernhardt plays an engagement at the City Music Hall from February 15 to 17, three evening performances and a matinee.

A Valuable Agent.

The glycerine employed in Dr. Pierce's medicines greatly enhances the medicinal properties which it extracts and holds in solution much better than alcohol would. It also possesses medicinal properties of its own, being a valuable demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic and antiferment. It adds greatly to the efficacy of the Black Cherrybark, Golden Seal root, Stone root and Queen's root, contained in "Golden Medical Discovery" in subduing chronic or lingering coughs, bronchitis, throat and lung affections, for all of which these agents are recommended by standard medical authorities.

In all cases where there is a wasting away of flesh, loss of appetite, with weak stomach, as in the early stages of consumption, there can be no doubt that glycerine acts as a valuable nutritive and aids the Golden Seal root, Stone root, Queen's root and Black Cherrybark, in promoting digestion and building up the flesh and strength, controlling the cough and bringing about a healthy condition of the whole system. Of course, it must not be expected to work miracles. It will not cure consumption except in its earlier stages. It will cure very severe, obstinate, chronic coughs, bronchitis and laryngeal troubles, and chronic sore throat with hoarseness. In acute coughs it is not so effective. It is in the lingering coughs, or those of long standing, even when accompanied by bleeding from lungs, that it has performed its most marvelous cures. Send for and read the little book of extracts, treating of the properties and uses of the several medicinal roots that enter into Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and learn why this medicine has such a wide range of application in the cure of diseases. DON'T DECEIVE YOURSELF.

Don't deceive yourself. If you have indigestion take Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It will relieve you. Rev. W. E. Hocutt, South Mills, N. C., says: "I was troubled with chronic indigestion for several years; whatever I ate seemed to cause heartburn, sour stomach, fluttering of my heart, and general depression of mind and body. My druggist recommended Kodol, and it has relieved me. I can now eat anything and sleep soundly at night." Kodol Digests what you eat, makes the stomach sweet, palatable, strengthening and affords quick relief. Sold by J. W. Gayle.

CHANGES IN PRUDENTIAL OFFICE.

Mr. W. H. Watts, the clever, accommodating and hustling Superintendent of the Prudential Life Insurance Co., has been transferred to Lexington, and will take charge of his new work on Monday next, February 5.

Mr. Watts has had charge of the business of that company in this city for three years and a half, has made many friends by his urbanity, industry and integrity, who regret to see him leave the city.

Mr. C. W. Burke, who has been Assistant Superintendent at Lexington, has been assigned to this city to fill the position vacated by Mr. Watts. He comes well recommended. We welcome him to our city.

BROUGHT HERE FOR SAFE HARBOR.

The U. S. Steamer Gen. O. M. Poe, with her accompanying fleet of dredge boats and barges, has been brought here and tied up at Salender's Wharf, on the South Side, just below the St. Clair street bridge, as a safe harbor for the rest of the winter.

These vessels need considerable repairs and these will be made while at this port.

CLIMATIC CURES.

The influence of climatic conditions in the cure of consumption is very much overdrawn. The poor patient, and the rich patient too, can do much better at home by proper attention to food digestion, and a regular use of German Syrup. Free expectoration in the morning is made certain by German Syrup, so is a good night's rest and the absence of that weakening cough and debilitating night sweat. Restless nights and the exhaustion due to coughing, the greatest danger and dread of the consumptive, can be prevented or stopped by taking German Syrup liberally and regularly. Should you be able to go to a warmer climate, you will find that of the thousands of consumptives there, the few who are benefited and regain strength are those that use German Syrup. Trial bottle 25c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists.

MILD WINTER.

As another evidence of the unusually mild winter which we have enjoyed so far, is the fact that the land terrapins are moving around. The grandchildren of Mr. John T. Gallahue, at the Forks of Elkhorn, found one of these ancient gentlemen wandering around their home on Thursday of last week. The day was bright and sunny, and his honor concluded to take a stroll.

McCLURE'S WINTER CLEARING SALE

COMMENCES FRIDAY, FEB. 2.

Extreme Price Reductions. Extreme Variety of Merchandise.

The reason for this sale is this store's unalterable rule not to carry over goods made for one season to another. This winter's sale will be the greatest we have ever held. We have had the largest year's business in our history. Large business necessarily means large stocks. Consequently there will go in this sale more goods than we have ever before been able to offer on a like occasion. To sell more goods than in former sales means deeper price reductions. So in this sale you will find greater variety of absolutely high grade merchandise than many a store can offer at the season's beginning at prices so low as to almost compel buying. The early comers will of course have greatest choice to select from.

CLOTHING.

$12 Suits, worth up to $30.

Choice of our finest winter weight fancy suits, men's and young men's, for $12. We have never offered such clothing values as are involved in this $12 suit sale. The bulk of them are worth $20 to $25; quite a few retail regularly at $30; none are valued at less than $15. Every suit is hand made and of absolutely all wool material. Included are a number of hand finished worsteds, which are worth to-day 20 per cent. more than we paid for them early in the fall. Three months to wear these suits in yet and then they are good to start next fall with.

$7.50 Suits, worth $10 and $12.

Choice of any mixed suit in our stock, worth $10 and $12, for $7.50. Good patterns, well made suits, good linings. Men's and young men's sizes.

$15 for our finest Overcoats.

All overcoats and rain coats, worth $30, $27 and $25, in this sale at $15. Paddocks, fancy belt back overcoats and rain coats and 46-inch coats in quiet colors are included.

$12 for Overcoats worth up to $22.

Choice of any overcoat or rain coat in the store, worth from $16 to $22, for $12. Included are belt backs, 52-inch overcoats and rain coats in the rich over-plaids and the box back coats in blacks and greys.

$7.50 for Overcoats worth $10 and $12.

Most of these are the popular belt-back coats in fancy colors, all well made and lined.

Not a man's or young man's overcoat of any description, nor a man's or young man's mixed suit at any price is reserved. Choice of any in the store at sale prices.
